

The Republican Party of New Mexico released the following statement regarding the resignation of Richard Ellenberg, chairman of the Democratic Party of New Mexico.

"Accusations should always be taken seriously and victims should always be heard. Sadly, Democrats waited to act until after their convention because candidates like Michelle Lujan Grisham needed the party to corruptly rig the nominating process to achieve a pre-determined outcome. The resignation is overdue but the hollow calls for action from so-called party leaders only amount to political posturing."

- Ryan Cangiolosi, chairman of the Republican Party of New Mexico