

RPNM Statement on New Mexico Secretary of State Race

ALBUQUERQUE – Republican Party of New Mexico Chairman Ryan Cangioli made the following statement following today’s announcement by JoHanna Cox that she will withdraw her candidacy for Secretary of State:

“We are grateful to JoHanna Cox for taking on the challenge of running for office. While we applaud her desire to serve the citizens of New Mexico, we understand that family comes first and certainly respect her decision to withdraw from the race to focus on her loved ones. The Republican Party has a process to replace a candidate on the ballot and we will convene our State Central Committee as soon as possible to select a new nominee, so we can elect a Secretary of State who will serve well the interests of the people of New Mexico.”
