

Steve Pearce Wins Second Debate

ALBUQUERQUE – The Republican Party of New Mexico congratulated Steve Pearce for his winning performance in tonight’s KOB debate.

Once again, Steve Pearce distinguished himself from Michelle Lujan Grisham on a statewide stage by outlining his vision for New Mexico and giving voters straightforward answers about where he stands on critical issues.

“Steve Pearce won this debate, and will win this election, because he gave voters straightforward answers about the serious challenges New Mexico faces,” said RPNM Chairman Ryan Cangioli. “Michelle Lujan Grisham offered nothing but bitter partisanship, recycled talking points, and failed policies that voters have already rejected. New Mexicans deserve a governor who is committed to reaching across the aisle and getting things done, but Lujan Grisham has proven to be just another self-absorbed politician who would rather score points than solve problems. Once again, Steve Pearce articulated his plan to diversify and expand our economy, improve our education system by empowering teachers, fight crime in our communities, and attack poverty at its roots.”

“As usual, Michelle Lujan Grisham refused to take responsibility for her corruption that allowed her to profit from sick and poor New Mexicans. She failed to articulate a vision for creating jobs and expanding our economy. She only wants to spend more taxpayer dollars, raid the permanent fund, and send our state down the path toward bankruptcy.”

“Only one candidate demonstrated the vision and leadership necessary to lead our state, and that was Steve Pearce.”
