SANTA FE – The Summer 2021 issue of El Palacio magazine, the official publication of the New Mexico Department of Cultural Affairs, has been shipped and is currently live at www.elpalacio.org.

This issue of the oldest museums magazine in the United States features in-depth looks at exhibitions across state museums, as well as deep dives into various aspects of New Mexico's history. Explore "Clearly Indigenous: Native Visions Reimagined in Glass" at the Museum of Indian Arts & Culture, learn more about the proposed Bursum Bill of 1921, find out how you can volunteer to protect the state's historic and prehistoric sites, and more.

All content for this current issue is available at www.elpalacio.org, as well as full archives dating back to the magazine's founding.

To subscribe to El Palacio, visit www.elpalacio.org/subscribe or call 505-795-1908.

About El Palacio

El Palacio was first published in 1913, one year after New Mexico reached statehood. The name of the magazine — "the palace" — refers to the Palace of the Governors, the first museum in what historically is referred to as the Museum of New Mexico, established in 1909, eventually reorganized under the New Mexico Department of Cultural Affairs. El Palacio covers art, culture, and history of the Southwest, with emphasis on the exhibitions, research, and programs of the state museums, historic sites, and cultural institutions of New Mexico.
