

Real Issues. Real People. Real New Mexico.

In this week's episode of Inside New Mexico, host Derek Underhill speaks with gubernatorial hopeful Jay Block. Block talks about the terrible record of Gov. Lujan Grisham and why he deserves to be governor. Block discusses his background and his experience, how he got involved in politics and his accomplishments as a Sandoval County commissioner. He also talks in-depth about the Governor's poor handling of the pandemic, the state's soaring crime rate, our weak economy and the crisis at the Southern border. Derek also shows you how President Trump was right on his timeline to get a COVID vaccine and on the origin of the virus.
