

Real Issues. Real People. Real New Mexico.

In this week's episode of Inside New Mexico, Steve talks with Frank Nymeyer of Carlsbad radio about:

- Vaccination mandates to visit the Roundhouse.
- The failed COVID policies here and around the nation.
- The upcoming legislative session.
- The growing momentum in the Republican Party.
- Election fraud and RPNM's court challenges regarding election integrity.
- President Biden's radical energy policies and how Gov. Lujan Grisham is failing to stand up for the oil and gas industry.

Host Derek Underhill talks with Duke Machado, the National Director of the Latino Strike Force. Machado speaks about efforts to get more Latinos involved in the Republican Party and to get them to turn to conservative values. He also discusses how the Strike Force is mobilizing to help political campaigns around the country.
