Episode #233

Danielle is back this week, and she's fired up about something important - the education options she wants to see available for her kids in our state.

Then, Steve, Derek, and Danielle don't hold back as they cut through the Democrats' spin.

- The Biden administration is trying to undermine the free market and decide what kind of car Americans can drive. Do you know what the long-term impacts of this behavior will be on the economy?
- Steve calls out Biden for draining our petroleum reserves and sending that oil to China.
- Hear how Democrats are celebrating raising gas prices to promote EVs.
- Steve and Danielle examine the adverse consequences of COVID mandates as the years have passed.
- Hear how Nella Domenici is breaking records and already advocating on behalf of New Mexicans while Martin Heinrich is MIA.
- The border crisis in NM has reached a new level as cartels have taken over a mountain in Sunland Park, according to border patrol.
