

Real Issues. Real People. Real New Mexico.

In this week's episode of Inside New Mexico, Steve talks about:

- The GOP's nomination of Sen. Mark Moors for the 1st Congressional District seat, Moore's strong platform, how he has stood up for the little guy and why this seat is vital for the progress of New Mexico.
- The state's economy and the health of our small businesses in New Mexico.
- How progressive Democratic policies are hurting our local economies.
- The ongoing crisis at the Southern border, the Biden Administration's immigration policies, the political ramifications and what polls are now revealing.

Host Derek Underhill also interviews NM Rep. Jane Powdrell-Culbert about recent legislation tackled at the Roundhouse. She discusses abortion, eliminating qualified immunity for police and recreational marijuana.
