

Real Issues. Real People. Real New Mexico.

In this week's episode of Inside New Mexico, Steve talks about:

- Tuesday's local election.
- How conservatives made gains on Albuquerque's City Council.
- The red wave across the country.
- Virginia's governor's race and why it's significant.
- How inflation has impacted voters.
- Why there's optimism for the GOP heading into 2022.
- How the election sent shock waves throughout the Democratic Party.
- The important push for election integrity in the GOP.
- How people are repudiating radical policies in the country.
- How progressive policies in New Mexico are hurting its citizens.
- How President Biden's energy policies are increasing gasoline prices.
- The dangerous road Democrats are taking across the nation.

You'll also hear some revealing comments by comedian and talk show host Bill Maher.