

The podcast cover features a central portrait of Steve Pearce, a man with a receding hairline, wearing a dark suit, white shirt, and red tie. He is smiling slightly. The background is white with a grey audio waveform. Below the waveform, a red box contains the text "With: Steve Pearce" in white. Below that, another red box contains "Tune in weekly" in white. At the bottom, a red and blue banner contains the text "INSIDE" in white on the red background, a silver vintage microphone icon in the center, and "NM" in white on the blue background. Below the banner, the text "Real Issues. Real People. Real New Mexico." is written in a red, sans-serif font.

In this week's episode:

Steve discusses some of the biggest topics around the nation and New Mexico, including the possibility of RPNM's redistricting case heading to the U.S. Supreme Court, the current presidential polls, new sad statistics about our state, how the Democrat party keeps swinging towards the radical left despite not aligning with New Mexican values, the biological male who won first place in a women's bicycling competition in Silver City, the chaos at the border ahead of the expiration of Title 42 + much more!
