

Upcoming Events - October 2023

The Department is excited to be hosting a variety of public events during the month of October. Please check out these upcoming programs.

Ladies' Fly Fishing Workshop

Over the summer and early fall, the New Mexico Department of Game and Fish has partnered with local chapters of Trout Unlimited to host in-person fly fishing sessions. Please check out the session newly scheduled for Albuquerque starting at 8:30 a.m. Oct. 21.

Registration opens on Oct. 2 at 8 a.m. Slots will be filled on a first-come, first-served basis. Click here to register.

Learn to Fish

Have you always wanted to learn to fish, but don't know where to start? Join us on Saturday, Oct. 28 to learn trout and salmon identification, what bait to use, how to rig your fishing pole, what you need in your tackle box, basic knot tying and more.

Please help us spread the word on this program and let your friends and family know that it is a great place to get started.

ATV Safety Training

The Department and our partners offer ATV safety trainings across the state. We are excited to offer an ATV class in Chama for the first time on Saturday, Oct. 7. The classes all cover safety equipment and important riding techniques to keep you and your family safe.

All riders completing the course will earn their OHV safety permit and riders under 18 will receive a helmet and goggles.
